President's Message

Dear Members, Donors & Well Wishers,

Human beings are superior compared to all other living beings. Since human beings are endowed with a superior intellect, science is possible. He has got two hands to implement all the scientific discoveries in the form of technology and machineries. Hands stand for technology because without hands we cannot do the most of the operations. Technology represented by hands and science represented by head are indications of the superiority of human beings. The third one is the communication skills which are not available to animals. Because of this we function collectively. We can share our science and technology with other communities and therefore group effort is possible. Science, technology and collectivism are because of communication which makes the human being the greatest living being on the earth and we have almost conquered the earth because of that. Even though all these superiorities are there, the greatest disadvantage is – human beings cannot understand the mystery of life, the purpose of life, the goal of life and the means by which that goal can be accomplished. Let us ponder over these thoughts and find our goals.

AVOPA goals are well documented and let us all strive towards accomplishing the objectives and goals. Human life is often compared to a journey. Every human being is going after various goals. Even if we accomplish one goal, it gets replaced by another goal. Thus the journey goes on and on. There is no sense of fulfillment at any time. Therefore we have to continuously work to accomplish the goals.

The Elections to Karnataka Assembly has been completed almost peacefully, thanks to Election Commission of India. The people of Karnataka have voted for a stable Government. Let us hope that the elected legislators keep up their promises and work for the welfare of the people at large.

As already informed the Endowments are taking shape. The Executive Committee Members and the Trustees are also contributing to the endowment fund each not less than Rs.10,000/-. The Committee will chalk out good programs and events in the coming months.

The children and grand children of our members and donors who fared well in their SSLC and PUC exams (10th and 12th) and those who have scored more than 90% marks may send their photos along with copy of Marks sheets so as to publish in the next bulletin.

With Hearty Greetings,
T.K. THIMMARAJA SETTY
